Event overview

The AoS Worlds Singles GT is a singles event. The tournament has 5 rounds stretched out over 2 days with 3 and 2 rounds on each day respectively.

Each tournament round lasts a total of 3 hours. In these 3 hours you will compete against players from all over the world to see who is the AoS Worlds singles champion.

Matches will take place on a standard 60"x 44" table using pre-generated terrain maps provided by Games Workshop in the General's Handbook in play.

Armies need to be fully painted and based (no primer showing).

The event winner will be determined by the following means and tiebreakers, as follows:

- Total won games;
- Total earned differential points;
- Total achieved battle tactics;

The official language of the tournament is English. All books and material for reference during gameplay must be presented in English. Having a quickly accessible digital version of reference material is acceptable. Communication between opposing Players has to be in English.

Please make sure to follow the guidelines from this rulespack and the documents linked in this rulespack to help the organization and referees to do their job as efficiently as possible.

AoS Worlds is completely run by volunteers. Volunteers are still human, and therefore can make mistakes. Please take this into account when encountering such a mistake and help us rectify these in a constructive manner.
